Tarporley War Memorial Hospital first opened in 1919 as a lasting memorial to those who gave their lives in The Great War. In 1919, the Hospital was funded by local subscription, with everyone in the local area contributing what they could, to fund the Hospital for the entire year. Today, nearly 100 years on, we're still relying on the community to donate and contribute over 70% (around £700,000) of the money needed to fund the Hospital. Without this support we simply cannot continue.
